Apple Valley Transit Service

On an average weekday, Apple Valley residents have access to nine routes which operate more than 7 hours of express service and 19 hours of local service each weekday. There are more than 16 hours of transit service each weekend day. The span of service varies by route, but METRO Red Line service, for example, operates from 5 a.m. until Midnight on Mondays – Fridays and from about 7 a.m. until Midnight on weekends. Other routes operate a subset of that span of service, such as Monday – Friday during the peak-period only (6-9 a.m. and 3-6:30 p.m.) or 8 a.m. – 7 p.m. weekdays only.

Ridership in Apple Valley is strong, given there are two transit stations (Apple Valley and 157th St. Transit Stations), along with Lakeville Cedar and Palomino Hills Park & Rides. Average weekday ridership on Apple Valley routes is about 3,000.
